Dear Pitono, Andi; and Fauzi, Fadhli Zul,

It is a pleasure to accept your manuscript IJPL-07-2024-0076.R2, entitled "Public Opinions on Social Media: How to Become a Trustworthy Leader in Times of Crisis" in its current form for publication in International Journal of Public Leadership. Please note, no further changes can be made to your manuscript.

This email will be followed by a second message containing a copy of your author accepted manuscript (AAM) which is the version that we will typeset and publish in the journal.

Your article will now go through editorial checks by Emerald's editorial team to ensure it meets our publication standards. These checks can take up to five days; we'll be in touch if we have any queries at this stage. Once this step has been completed you will receive an email directing you to Emerald Submit to select your publishing licence and submit your article to production. If you are publishing in one of our subscription journals and wish to make your article open access you can choose this option in Emerald Submit. Please note, when creating an account to sign your license in Submit, you must use the same email address that is linked to your ScholarOne account. If you use a different email, you will not be able to see your accepted manuscript in the Submit platform.

If you have not received an email with editorial queries or an invitation to complete licensing on Emerald Submit within 10 working days of acceptance, please do contact the JEO (Journal Editorial Office), you can find their details on the journal homepage:

<https://www.emeraldgrouppublishing.com/journal/ijpl>

Please note that it is the corresponding author who must sign the publishing license on behalf of all authors of your article.

Once you have completed licensing on Emerald Submit, your article will enter the production process and you'll be provided with a proof. You will need to approve your proof before your article is published. If you have any queries about the proofing system you can contact the journal's Supplier Project Manager (SPM) whose contact details are on the journal homepage: <https://www.emeraldgrouppublishing.com/journal/ijpl>.

By publishing in this journal your work will benefit from Emerald EarlyCite. Once the above steps are completed your article will be published online in EarlyCite. EarlyCite is the author proofed, typeset version of record, fully citable by DOI. The EarlyCite article sits outside of a journal issue and is paginated in isolation. The EarlyCite article will later be collated into a journal issue according to the journals' publication schedule.

Thank you for your contribution. On behalf of the Editors of International Journal of Public Leadership, we look forward to your continued contributions to the Journal.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Tim A. Mau

Dear Pitono, Andi; Fauzi, Fadhli Zul,

“Public Opinions on Social Media: How to Become a Trustworthy Leader in Times of Crisis” - IJPL-07-2024-0076.R2

Congratulations on having your article accepted for publication.

Please find a PDF of your Author Accepted Manuscript (AAM) attached. Please ensure you store this safely, as you will need it if you want to self-archive your work. This PDF is not a proof of your work; you will be sent a proof once your article has been typeset.

Please note: The PDF must be opened with Adobe Acrobat Reader. Download the PDF, open Adobe Acrobat Reader then go to File, select Open, locate the PDF in your Downloads folder and open it.

Next steps

Your article will now go through editorial checks by Emerald's editorial team to ensure it meets our publication standards; we'll be in touch if we have any queries. Once this stage is complete you will then receive an email directing you to Emerald Submit to complete your publishing licence.

Once the licence is completed, your article will enter the production process and you'll be provided with a proof. You will need to approve your proof before your article is published.

Emerald's self-archiving policy

Emerald is aware that many authors wish to make their work available in institutional repositories or are mandated to do so by their funders. Emerald operates a zero embargo policy across all of its journals; this enables all of our authors to make their article open access via a 'green' route.

This means that as soon as your article has been published in the journal on Emerald insight, you may make the full text of your AAM available within your personal website, institutional repository (IR), or SCN signed up to the Voluntary STM Sharing Principles. The AAM may also be shared with interested individuals, for teaching and training purposes at your own institution and for grant applications.

How to deposit the AAM of your article

For full information on how to deposit your work, please visit our author rights page. Please refer to the terms of your own institution or funder to ensure full compliance.

If you are required to deposit your article in your institution's repository, you will need to:

- Either manually deposit the accepted manuscript attached to this email or a version from your own records (it must be the version accepted for publication by the journal's Editor) into your repository;

Or, if applicable, forward your AAM to your institution's Repository Manager.

To deposit your AAM, you will need to adhere to the following conditions:

- You must include the DOI (10.1108/IJPL-07-2024-0076) of your article;
- Include all of the relevant metadata (article title, journal name, volume, issue no. etc.).
- Include the date your article was accepted for publication, which was: (30-Dec-2024)
- The AAM must clearly indicate where the article was published, or where it is forthcoming;
- Include a clear licensing statement (see below).
- Include the article abstract (see below):

The study compares public opinions toward several heads of state in times of crisis across countries, especially during the conflict between Russia and Ukraine. Although recent studies have primarily addressed public sentiment during the Covid-19 pandemic, critical international conflicts continue to impact economic and political dynamics that need warrant examination.

Using social media data, this study utilizes content and sentiment analysis to assess public perceptions of leaders' actions and communication strategies.

Findings indicate that most leaders elicited predominantly negative sentiment, with only two leaders viewed favorably.

A notable contribution of this study is the identification of communication patterns as pivotal in shaping public trust; leaders who failed to articulate a clear shared vision faced heightened negative sentiment, as ineffective communication fostered public distrust and anxiety. Although principles of Ethical Political Leadership were observed in some responses, this study underscores that ethical leadership alone is insufficient. Transparent and strategic communication, particularly during crises, emerges as essential to aligning public perception and fostering trust, highlighting its importance as a core component of effective leadership in international conflicts.

Deposit licences

Emerald allows authors to deposit their AAM under the Creative Commons Attribution Non-commercial International Licence 4.0 (CC BY-NC 4.0). To do this, the deposit must clearly state that the AAM is deposited under this licence and that any reuse is allowed in accordance with the terms outlined by the licence. To reuse the AAM for commercial purposes, permission should be sought by contacting contracts@emerald.com.

Emerald appreciates that some authors may not wish to use the CC BY-NC licence; in this case, you should deposit the AAM and include the copyright line of the published article. Should you have any questions about our licensing policies, please contact contracts@emerald.com. For more information on the deposit licenses, please see our deposit information: <https://www.emeraldgroupublishing.com/our-services/authors/author-policies/author-rights#deposit>

Please note that the full text of the AAM must only appear in the institutional repository once the final version of the article has been published on Emerald insight (www.emerald.com). You do not need to wait for the article to be assigned to an issue.

If you have any questions about Emerald's repository policy, please contact contracts@emerald.com.

Congratulations once more on having your article accepted and thank you for choosing to publish with Emerald.

Kind Regards,
Head of Research Integrity, Rights & Policy, Emerald Publishing

Dear Authors,

IJPL-07-2024-0076.R2 - "Public Opinions on Social Media: How to Become a Trustworthy Leader in Times of Crisis" was accepted on 30-Dec-2024. Your paper has been returned to you for final checks. Please check the following information in ScholarOne carefully and update it if needed.

The following information must be checked and provided before your paper can be sent though to Emerald Submit and onto Production for publication.

Additional information required

You will not be able to make any changes once you return your paper after these checks. If you have provided a title page, this information will not be exported to our production systems and will therefore not be used. Only the information in the ScholarOne system is used.

1. Please check all author names (on the author details page on the submission page) are spelled correctly. If incorrect, you can amend these in ScholarOne. All names need to be in English characters and include a designation. If an author is missing, please email me directly instead of making any changes to the authorship list.

2. Please check all author affiliations (on the author details page on the submission page) are correct. If you have recently changed institution or are unsure about which affiliation to list, please contact me directly. Please note, your full affiliations will be listed on your published paper.

Pitono, Andi; Fauzi, Fadhli Zul
Institut Pemerintahan Dalam Negeri, Institut Pemerintahan Dalam Negeri

3. Please check the author order (on the author details page on the submission page) is correct

4. Please check you have provided permissions and credit lines for all figures and tables including ones you have created yourself. These should be listed as "Source: Authors own work".

5. Check that the correct author is the corresponding author. They will need to complete the publishing license at the next stage of the process.

6. Please check the article title, structured abstract and keywords are the final approved version.

If any of the above information is incorrect, it is your responsibility to update account information in ScholarOne and provide the correct affiliations for the manuscript.

Please note, we publish the affiliation where the research took place. If you have since moved we will be unable to change your affiliation, but you can include it in an acknowledgement, either uploaded to ScholarOne or added at author proof stage. Please also remember to update your Scholar One account.

Only the submitting author can check the manuscript information but all authors must check their account and that the information it contains is correct.

Please ensure you have checked your manuscript and made any necessary changes within the next 5 working days.

Once your manuscript is returned, no further changes can be made.

Yours sincerely

IJPL-07-2024-0076.R2 - Public Opinions on Social Media: How to Become a Trustworthy Leader in Times of Crisis

Dear Assoc. Prof. Pitono,

Congratulations on having your paper, "Public Opinions on Social Media: How to Become a Trustworthy Leader in Times of Crisis.", accepted for publication in International Journal of Public Leadership.

I am writing to you with regard to all the figures and tables provided in the manuscript. In order for us to be able to publish all these figures and tables, please include a credit line for each of them if you have been given permission to use it; this credit line is still required even if the figures and tables content is your own work.

Eg. A credit line, acknowledgment, or attribution should be mentioned underneath each figure or table caption for all contents; this should be present if the figure is the property of the author; for example, "(figure courtesy of Smith & Smith, 2007)" or "(figure by authors)". It should indicate who created the figure or table.

Moreover,

During checks, we found that the in-text citation for table 4 and figures 4, and 5 is missing, Kindly check and share the correct file.

Until this issue has been resolved we cannot proceed with your paper to publication. Kindly provide the updated file with the changes highlighted.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any further questions.

Yours sincerely,
Rehan Ismail

Dear Editor,

Thank you for your email and the opportunity to publish our paper in the International Journal of Public Leadership.

We have addressed the issues highlighted in your email, including the credit lines for all figures and tables, as well as the missing in-text citations for several Table and Figures. During the review process, we added a new figure (Figure 1), which caused the figure numbering to change. This led to some in-text citations being omitted, but these have now been fixed in the revised manuscript.

Since we are unable to upload the revised file through the journal system, we have attached the updated manuscript with this email for your review. All changes have been highlighted as requested (written with a purple mark). We hope this approach is acceptable and that the revised file meets your requirements. Please let us know if there is anything further we need to address.

Thank you for your assistance and understanding.

Best regards,

Andi Pitono.
